Outline of travel and accommodation logistics	Everyone came out at least one day before their first match which is sufficient to recover from the travel over these sort of distances. There is a lack of training time available in this competition though the organisers are looking at extending the event to allow more time in the programme. Hotel was good standard though there were problems with double room being supplied rather than twins which took a couple of days to get resolved. Transport to and from the venue was better this year than recent years.
Outline of Competition logistics	The competitions themselves were run to the new timings and scoring systems, finals being run to the new format too with a decent standard of competition officials. Random equipment checks were being performed as would happen in higher level international matches.

Outline of travel and accommodation logistics	Travelled from Hannover to Plzen by bus as we have done in previous years after having a training day in Hannover which is very useful. Athletes then returned home the day after they completed competing.
Outline of Competition logistics	The 10m competition is still run on paper targets marked electronically hence we can get the integer & decimal scores provided by the organisers. The 50m competitions are now all shot on Sius Electronic targets. Again the organisers provided both integer & decimal scores for the prone & air matches, the integer scores being purely for information.

Outline of Competition logistics	A very high standard competition, on a World Cup range, Jon is able to shoot this as a "Visitor" alongside those competing for places at the World Championships later this year for USA. The Prone matches were shot between 14 th & 17 th and the 3P matches between 19 th & 22 nd . Unfortunately Jon was not allowed to shoot any of the finals as the USA competitors are awarded points according to their place in the final and his involvement would skew the end results which are used for selecting USA teams.

Outline of travel and accommodation logistics	Organised through British Shooting and WGT Sports Travel, the organisers supplied the Hotel accom and transportation to & from the hotel. The only "complaint" is that there was not anywhere enough shuttle buses to & from the hotel.
Outline of Competition logistics	A competition run to International standards with full ISSF organisation, this competition is designed to give the Juniors a proper taste of an ISSF event. The people running this event are also used to run World Cups. The ISSF also use this event to try out news things, this year they tried playing load music throughout the finals!! Chances are this will get introduced at World Cups!!
